WHAT SORT OF A FATHER ARE YOU?
What sort of a father are you to your boy?
Do you know if your standing is good?
Do you ever take stock of yourself and check up?
Do you account with the boy, as you should?
Do you ever reflect on your conduct with him?
Are you all that a father should be?
Do you send him away when you're anxious to read,
Or let him climb onto your knee?
Is a book more important to you than his talk?
Do you find that his chatter annoys?
Would you rather be quiet than have him about?
Do you send him away with his toys?
Have you time to bestow on the boy when he comes
With his questions—to tell him the truth?
Or do you neglect him and leave him alone
To work out the problems of youth?
Do you ever go walking with him, hand in hand?
Do you plan little outings for him?
Does he ever look forward to romping with you,
Or are you eternally grim?
What memories pleasant of you will he have
In the years that are certain to come?
Will he look back on youth as a season of joy,
Or as age that was woefully grim?
Come, father, reflect! Does he know you today
And do you know him, as you should?
Is gold so important to you that you leave
It to chance that your boy will be good?
Take stock of yourself and consider the lad;
Your time and your thoughts are his due.
How would you answer your God should He ask,
What sort of a father are you?

In a decision just handed down, the Court of Appeals holds that where a license for conducting a saloon is revoked by the proper authorities for cause the license holder cannot recover from the city the paid-in and unearned portion of such license.

The Nomad Club enjoyed a delightful outing on the blue waters of the beautiful Ohio river Saturday evening. The trim little steamer Florinel, in charge of Captain C. M. Piester, was employed to transport the merry and congenial spirits from port to port. A delicious and well prepared luncheon served aboard the transport was not the least of the evening's pleasures.

Coroner Fred Dresel is very much elated over a letter he received last week from Germany, which contained a life size photograph of his brother, Captain Joseph Dresel of the German Army. He is now an attache of the War Department, and in full regimentals he is certainly a fine looking officer. Fred seems to think that there is quite a resemblance between him and his brother.

Friction has arisen between the passenger departments of the B. and O., the Pennsylvania and the C. and O. over the through fares between Louisville and New York, and a meeting of the General Passenger Agents of the various lines will be held some time in the near future, either in Cincinnati or in Louisville, to consider the question.

Why Mike Brown is selling so many Buggies, and the reason is that he sells the best Buggies made, tells the truth about them and stands behind and makes good all he promises. His motto is a HANDSOME SUITS AT HALF PRICE.

It seems early to take such radical action among these fine suits but doing such a large business in such a small space demands treatment that would be unnecessary if we were not so hampered for room. At these great price reductions a small charge will be made for alterations.

FORMER PRESIDENTS
DO NOT TARRY LONGAverage Life of Presidents After Retirement is Twelve Years and Eleven Months

President Roosevelt retired from his exalted office while a comparatively young man, and doubtless looks forward to a longer lease of life than has fallen to a majority of the retiring Presidents. John Adams, the second President, lived over a quarter of a century after laying down the cares of office, but the average period of life of the Presidents after retirement is only 12 years and ten months. The list follows:

George Washington lived two years and nine months after retirement.

John Adams lived twenty-five years and three months.

Thomas Jefferson lived seventeen years and three months.

James Madison lived nineteen years and three months.

James Monroe lived six years and four months.

John Quincy Adams lived nineteen years and served in the House of Representatives.

Andrew Jackson lived eight years and three months.

Martin Van Buren lived twenty-one years and four months.

William Henry Harrison died precisely one month after his inauguration, April 4th, 1841.

John Tyler lived seventeen years after his retirement.

James K. Polk lived three months.

Zachary Taylor died in office, sixteen months after his inauguration.

Millard Fillmore lived twenty-one years after his retirement.

Franklin Pierce lived twelve years and seven months.

James Buchanan lived six years and eleven months.

Abraham Lincoln died in office.

Andrew Johnson lived six years and four months after retirement, and served a portion of a term in the United States Senate.

U. S. Grant lived eight years and four months after retirement.

Rutherford B. Hayes lived eleven years and eleven months.

James A. Garfield died four months after his inauguration.

Chester A. Arthur survived one year and eight months after his retirement.

Grover Cleveland lived ten years and seven months.

Benjamin Harrison lived ten years.

William McKinley died in office.

Only two of Mr. Roosevelt's predecessors returned to public life, John Quincy Adams dying while a member of the House of Representatives, and Andrew Johnson passing away while United States Senator.

Mr. Roosevelt may also return to Washington as a Senator, but whether he does or not the people of the country, regardless of politics or religion, will wish him a lease of life far beyond the three score and ten allotted to mankind.

Postmaster Clarence Mathews, who has been confined to his home in East Second street for several weeks, is improving slowly and his friends hope to soon see him out again.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

To Have Their First Initiation in Their New Home June 13th

Maysville Council No. 1877, Knights of Columbus, has secured a home in the second and third floors of the State National Bank Building, and are having it fitted up in handsome style.

They are sending out beautiful invitations to all the Councils throughout the State to attend the first initiation, to be held in their new quarters Sunday, June 13th, when a large class will take the three Degrees.

Newport Council will do the work in the First Degree, Covington Council the Second, and James C. Rogers, District Deputy, of Louisville, assisted by the Falls City Team, will give the work in the Third Degree.

There will be excursions on the railroads and steamboats, and another large gathering of fine-looking Knights, accompanied by ladies fair, a repetition of a previous assemblage here, may be expected.

Maysville Council are hustling thoroughbreds, and never do things by halves; so the visiting brethren can rest assured nothing will be left undone that will tend to their edification and enjoyment.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Smith entertained with a dinner Sunday in honor of Mrs. Smith's fiftieth birthday anniversary.

This morning a Committee from Joseph Heller Post visited the Maysville Cemetery and decorated the graves of 136 soldier dead.

W. O. Heffernan of Ripley, formerly of Bracken county, has been appointed State Bank Examiner in Ohio by the Harmon Administration.

The Coroner's verdict at the inquest over the body of Ed. Starrett, found dead at Broshear's last Friday morning, was that he came to his death by being struck by a C. and O. train.

Colonel Otto G. Callahan of the Helena neighborhood steps to the front on the spring chicken proposition. He has 650 springers, hatched by hens, and twelve hens setting yet.

HEADACHE POWDER

Is Said to Have Caused Late McGovney's Death

Mr. Late McGovney, who conducted a dairy farm on the old Fulton farm several miles back of Aberdeen, O., while en route to this city yesterday morning with his usual daily supply of milk for his customers here, was taken ill after having proceeded only a short distance on his way and died in a few minutes after having been taken to Dr. Laughlin's office in Aberdeen.

His death occurred about 8:30 o'clock.

He was in good health other than a headache, and before leaving home he took some kind of a powder to relieve the pain, and to the poison his death is attributed.

He was one of Brown county's representative citizens, a man of standing in his community and withal a Christian gentleman.

He was a Deacon in the Central Presbyterian Church of this city.

He was 53 of age and leaves a widow and one daughter, Mrs. Glenn Bradford, who is now fortunately visiting her mother.

The funeral will occur Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock from his late residence, and the services will be conducted by the Rev. W. W. Akers, Pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church.

Interment in Charter Oak Cemetery at Aberdeen.

The Sunny South Floating Theater is due at Maysville soon. It's great.

The Kentucky State Holiness Association, in convention at Lexington last week, decided not to move Ashbury College from Wilmore to Louisville, as had been contemplated.

F. M. Harover, President of the Bank of Manchester, was for the seventeenth term re-elected President of the Adams County Sunday-school Association in convention at Seaman, Ohio, last Friday.

The Sunny South Floating Theater, the largest, finest and most complete Floating Theater in the world, is en route down the river and will exhibit at Maysville one evening. Watch for adv. and date later.

Mrs. Annie Marie Lanley, aged 79, mother of Mr. August Lanley of this city, passed away at her home at Portsmouth last Thursday, after a week's illness. She had been in failing health for several years owing to her advanced age.

Mrs. Lanley was born in Baden, Germany, in 1830, and came to this country in 1855.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

AN OBJECT LESSON

In River Improvement—Gallipolis Dam Will Make City From Portsmouth to Huntington

"Captain H. L. Redden, a prominent riverman, tells us that work has been commenced upon the Government Dam across the river about six miles below Gallipolis," says The Portsmouth Blade. "The Dam will produce a nine-foot stage nearly thirty miles above, and will afford an ample pool of deep water about the mouth of the Kanawha river in which coal fleets can be assembled at all seasons."

"With an average of about thirty miles between Dams, both Portsmouth and Ironton, with their vast industries and shipping interests, would be well provided for. According to Government surveys there is to be a Dam just below the mouth of the Scioto. This would necessitate another just below and near to Ironton. Huntington would scarcely be so well provided, but still would have an extensive harbor of sufficient depth."

"With these Dams, Portsmouth, Ironton, Ashland, Catlettsburg and Huntington would soon become practically a continuous city more than fifty miles in length, and in the country there would perhaps be a few places of equal area more industrially productive."

The Old Kentucky Home

In every old town there is a story which all who run may read; it is spread upon the pages of the daily papers, told abroad in the advertisements, talked of by its people. But there is another story—written in the heart and treasured in the memory—that is known only to those that have been a part of its life.

If the walls of these old houses here in Maysville could talk, what tales of happiness many could tell, from the light-hearted gaiety of youth to the calm content of advancing age. Many of the old houses have passed into new hands and are recording the joy and laughter of other youths and maidens; almost all of the men and women who were the fathers and mothers of thirty years ago have, one by one, crept silently to rest, leaving to their children priceless memories of happy homes and care-free youth. But there remains one gentle spirit of the olden time whose presence is a benediction in the home which Tuesday last was the scene of rare sentiment and beauty.

With the desire to call around her once more the laughing and loving girls and boys who, thirty years ago, so often met under her hospitable roof "to chase the glowing hours with flying feet," Mrs. John B. Poyntz was the inspiration, the "Twins' Birthday" the occasion, and the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Cochran the scene of a gathering which will never be forgotten by those who were fortunate enough to be there. Weeks ago the summons went forth to the "boys and girls" of yesterday to celebrate the birthday of the twins, Harry and Julia Chenoweth, and from Minnesota on the North, Alabama on the South and California on the West, together with those nearer home, came the eager acceptances.

The "birthday" is an event, and the affection of the old comrades of by-gone days something to be revered, but the expression of all the sentiment required not only an opportunity, but a "place." What spot so appropriate as the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Cochran?

Blessed by the presence of the gentle old lady, the mother of the hostess and the "Annt" and inspiration of her now gray-haired boys and girls; presided over by the ideal host and hostess under whose supervision everything moves with that calm and restful regularity so typical of their lives, and assisted by that faithful friend and servant, the "Queen of the Kitchen," good old "Annt" Ann Jackson, it was the fitting frame for that happy gathering in which every heart beat in unison, every countenance reflected kind thoughts and every action was in harmony. Nothing was lacking save the presence of those who have "gone before," or who were compelled by illness or circumstances to be absent. What tho' the heavens wept? There was golden sunshine in all hearts, for that summons had called them back, not only to the old home, but to youth and its careless joys, and tho' some tears were shed over what has been and what might have been, they were the tears that enrich and do not embitter the heart.

The grand old home was filled with flowers, some of them sent from afar, but most of them the "old-fashioned" kind we all love, grown by loving friends at home. In order that nothing might be lacking, Professor Venie discoursed sweet music and, as the company gathered around the beautiful table, in the center of which stood the "Twin Birthday Cake," surmounted by numerous candles, the strains of "My Old Kentucky Home" brought tears to the eyes of even those who are only Kentuckians by marriage.

There may have been other reunions; there may have been other youthful friends, but there never was a day like that and every man and woman there was made the better by it.

GOOD SHOWING

Made By National Banks of Kentucky to Controller

The Controller of the Currency at Washington reports a splendid growth in the business of the National Banks of Kentucky during the last year. That the Kentucky Banks are showing remarkable recuperative powers in emerging from the shadow of the late panic is brought out in this report of the Controller.

The report shows the condition of all the National Banks in Kentucky, including those of Louisville, at the close of business on May 14th, 1909, which approximates the one year period.

During that time the individual deposits in the National Banks of Kentucky—that is, the deposits of Tom, Dick and Harry—grew from $46,125,375.81 to $53,487,587.26—an increase of $7,362,211.45.

The total resources grew from $113,905,071.06, to $114,158,959.84.

The vast increase of the individual deposits is the most gratifying feature of the report. It shows that the people of Kentucky are using the Banks to a greater extent than ever before.

Results are sure and swift.
Results are quick and lasting;
It penetrates the heart of disease.
That is what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea does.

If you suffer from backache—

From any disease of the kidneys,
Be cured to stay cured.
Doan's Kidney Pills make lasting cures.
Maysville people testify.
Here's one case of it:

M. C. Chisholm, 317 East Second street, Maysville, Ky., says:

"The cure which Doan's Kidney Pills effected in my case some years ago has been permanent, and the testimonial I gave in their favor still holds good. I was bothered a great deal by too frequent passages of the kidney secretions, this being especially annoying at night, when I was obliged to arise several times. Having my attention called to Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box at J. J. Wood & Son's Drugstore, and had only used them a short time when I noticed a marked improvement. They soon cured me, and I have learned of several instances where they have been used with good results."
